

Change on the Management Board

Andreas von der Heydt takes over from Philipp Andrée

Hamburg, 2. November 2022 – Dr Philipp Andrée, the Management Board member responsible for Online and Marketing, will be leaving Tchibo at the end of the year. ‘We regret his decision and would like to thank Philipp Andrée for his achievements, particularly in building a modern online business,’ commented Werner Weber, Chairman of the Management Board of Tchibo GmbH.

Andreas von der Heydt, member of the Management Board for International Business, will oversee the Online and Marketing departments in addition to his current duties. ‘We thank him for taking on this additional responsibility,’ said Werner Weber. Andreas Von der Heydt has been with Tchibo since 2022. He looks back on more than twenty years in international management functions. His career path has led him from Rewe to L’Oréal to Amazon.

About Tchibo:

Tchibo stands for a unique business model. In eight countries, Tchibo operates about 900 Tchibo shops, approx. 24,200 Depots at third-party retail outlets, and national online shops. The company uses this multi-channel distribution system to offer coffee and the Cafissimo single-serve system, along with weekly changing non food ranges. Tchibo and its 11 230 employees worldwide generated revenues of 3.26 billion EUR in 2021. The company is the roasted coffee market leader in Austria, the Czech Republic, Germany and Hungary and one of the leading e-commerce companies in Europe.

Its sustainable business policies have earned the family business, which was founded in Hamburg in 1949, multiple awards including the award for Corporate Ethics and the Environmental Logistics Award in 2012, and the Federal Government’s CSR Award in 2013. In 2016 Tchibo was awarded Germany’s most sustainable major enterprise.
